

March 6, 2009

Spring-like weather opens Birmingham eatery patio

*By SYLVIA RECTOR
FREE PRESS STAFF WRITER*

With temperatures above 50 degrees for the first time in months, Big Rock Chophouse in Birmingham is opening its outdoor patio today for lunch and dinner for the first time this spring.

Its 1,300-square-foot Stone Terrace, said to be the city's largest outdoor dining space, seats 50 to 60 guests.

The restaurant, located in a restored train station, is at 245 S. Eton at Maple; 248-647-7774.
